DIES FROM GAS POISON IN NEW YORK

A. W. Armstrong of This City Accidentally Asphyxiated

BODY HERE TONIGHT

Turned on Gas Stove to Heat Room And Fell Asleep And Tube to Stove Disconnected.

Anthony W. Armstrong, about 39 years old, a native of this city, was accidentally asphyxiated in his apartment at the residence of Miss Ann Burke, 16 West Sixty-eight street, New York. The deceased had a room at the apartment of Miss Burke. Police Sergt. William J. Wilkinson early last night received a message over the long distance telephone announcng his death.

According to the message efforts were made to arouse Armstrong yesterday and when he failed to respond and the odor of gas detected, the door was forced and he was found dead in bed and gas was flowing from a small gas stove which it is thought Armstrong lighted to heat his room.

Sergt. Wilkinson last night notified Mrs. Jessie V. Moran, wife of Harry E. Moran, of Falls Church, sister of the deceased, and she directed that the body be brought to Wheatley's chapel this city, and prepared for burial.

Later Chief Goods received a telegram from Chief Inspector Lahey, of the New York Police Department, setting forth that Armstrong died from accidental gas poisoning.

The deceased had been in New York for several months and was employed by a large construction firm.

Mr. Armstrong was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Anthony W. Armstrong, of this city, and his father was a prominent lawyer here.

He attended the Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Va., and later studied civil engineering at the University of Virginia.

For several years he served in the marines and was in the Phillipines and during the world war was a marine, stationed at Quantico and was a lieutenant.

Armstrong lived at 102 South Columbus street up to the time he left this city.

The body of Mr. Armstrong will arrive here tonight.

Meeting Saturday

League of Women Voters Held Important Meeting at Home of Mrs. Horner

A called meeting of the League of Women Voters was held Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. M. L. Horner, 601 Duke street, to hear the reports of special committees.

At this meeting the chairman, Miss Rose M. MacDonald, was instructed to send a telegram to Senators Swanson and Glass urging their support of the Gronna bill.

The regular monthly meeting of the league will be held at the chamber of commerce tomorrow night, and all women of the city are urged to attend. Each member has been appointed a committee on a membership drive, with instruction to bring at least five new members to tomorrow night's meeting.

"WILD MAN" WOULD GO BACK

Has Written to "President Cleveland" About Swamp Home

Laurel, Miss., Jan. 24.—Albert Parsons, the "wild man," who was captured in Leaf river swamp with a woman and 2-year-old girl, doesn't like the county poorhouse. He wants to go back to the jungles and live in his shanty, fish and hunt and plough with his blind horse.

The man, who is 72 years old, evidently is laboring under the hallucination that the land which he occupied is public domain. He says he has already written to President Cleveland regarding his title. The woman, whom he claims to have caught in a bear trap many years ago, is undoubtedly a lunatic. She is about 50 years of age. She contends she is the mother of the child, but few doubt it.

A. I. Du Pont Married

Bride Was Miss Jessie Ball, of Family Founded in 1651 by the Grandfather of George Washington

Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 24.—Alfred I. Du Pont, multimillionaire head of the Du Pont Powder Company, and Miss Jessie Ball, of this city, a prominent member of the Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution and several other organizatien, were married here yesterday. The Rev. Baker P. Lee performed the service at his home on Wilton Place in the presence of the bride's brothers, Edwin Ball and Thomas Ball, and Charles R. Rogers, an old friend of the family.

Mr. Du Pont and his bride departed at once for Santa Barbara, where they are to pass a few days before beginning a four months' tour of the country. They are to remain for some time at Mr. du Pont's 2,000 acre home near Wilmington, Del., and later will return to Los Angeles.

Mr. Du Pont and his bride's family have been friends for many years She is a member of one of the best known families of Virginia. Her father was the late Captain Thomas Ball, a member of the Ball family founded in 1651 by Colonel William Ball, grandfather of George Washington. Colonel Ball was sent to Virginia by the British government and settled in Lancaster county.

Captain Thomas Ball was Attorney General of Texas for some time, and under President Cleveland was Assistant United States Attorney General.

Mrs. Du Pont is a graduate of Withersville Seminary, Withersville, Va. She has made her home in Los Angeles recently, although for several months she was a guest of Mr. Du Pont's family at De Mourse Estate. Mr. Du Pont arrived in Los Angeles, a few weeks ago.

To Arrange For Fight

Executive Committee of Commuters to Confer Tonight in Plans for Legal Battle Against Trolley Line

A meeting of the executive committee of the Mount Vernon division Commuters' Association of the Washington-Virginia Railway Company will be held tonight in the Westminster Building. They will confer with a special committee of three from the chamber of commerce and a committee of three from the Citizens' Association.

At this meeting plans will be formulated for the fight to be made against the Washington-Virginia Railway Company. This meeting will be a private one and open only to the foregoing.

Since the meeting of the commuters Saturday night a large number of commuters not heretofore identified with the association have joined the association and there is every indication that the railway company will meet with strong opposition when the case is called before the Interstate Commerce Commission. The plan for the fight will not be announced to the public.

ADMIRAL CARY GRAYSON

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—Unbeknown to Washington generally, Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, President Wilson's personal physician, for a week has been confined to his bed with a distressing pulmonary affection. He is at his home, 1600 Sixteenth street.

Dr. Grayson contracted the grippe on January 16, developing pleurisy three days later. At no time has he been considered critically ill. His condition is improving, Mrs. Grayson said last night she expects him to be up and around shortly. Capt. J. B. Dennis and Comdr. Allen D. McLean, naval surgeons attending Dr. Grayson, say their patient's excellent physical condition is responsible for his casual recovery.

Thrift Week Closes

Featured by Sermons and Movies by Y. M. C. A.

National Thrift Week, fostered by the Y. M. C. A., is closing today and Alexandria has had a part in this most worthy movement, that has the sanction of the government and practically every financial agency in the country.

Thrift sermons were preached in Grace Church and in Trinity M. E. Church at the beginning of the week by the pastors of those churches, the Rev. Edgar Carpenter and Rev. Dr. D. H. Martin. Thursday morning at the assembly period at the Alexandria High School, J. Randal Caton spoke to the student body on thrift, using as his subject, "Benjamin Franklin, America's Great Exponent of Thrift." The address was a most inspiring one and the student body enthusiastically applauded the speaker at the close of the splendid talk.

During the week government thrift films were shown to several audiences by the Y. M. C. A., and yesterday morning Dr. John Lee Allison, at the Second Presbyterian Church and Dr. E. B. Jackson at the First Baptist Church, preached thrift sermons to large audiences. Sermons, addresses and films reached audiences of several thousnds during the week ad the Y. M. C A., expressed itself as being highly pleased with the celebration of the week. Urban S. Lambert was chairman of the thrift week committee.

SUCCESSFUL COMMUNITY SOCIAL BY Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A., community social at the Westminster Building Saturday evening was one of the most successful of the entire series thus far held. The ladies of the Second Baptist Church were in immediate charge of the entertainment and recreational features a large crowd was in attendance and a delightful evening was the result.

Moving pictures were shown first, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, and these included the government thrift pictures which were thoroughly enjoyed by all. Games were then played until a late hour when refreshments were served with Mrs. J. F. Simpson and Mrs. Clarence Parker in charge.

In the afternoon at 3:00 o'clock free pictures were again shown to the youngsters and as on the Saturday before when this plan was begun, the children thoroughly enjoyed the show. The free pictures will be shown again at 3:00 o'clock next Saturday for the children, and in the evening the community social will be held as usual.

ENJOYABLE PARTY

Misses Mildred and Jack Cowhig entertained a number of their little friends from 3 to 6 o'clock Saturday Among their guests were Misses Margaret Ogden, Margaret French, Susan Smoot Thomson, Helen Myers, Louise Myers, Kittie Spittle, Agnes Wilkerson, Virginia Jackson, Mary Buddin, Frances Buddin, Nancy Buddin, Margaret Cunningham, Dorothy Pettitt, Elizabeth Demaine, Marie Quinn, Grace Powell, Nellie Ridgely, Ellen Ridgely, Ellen Taylor, Margaret Shaw, Louise Roupe, Louise Smith and Edna Smith. Master Jack Payne, of Washington, Charles Wilkinson, Donald Brisbane Roupe and Cleveland Shaw.

CHARGES MRS. PEETE DANCED OVER VICTIM

Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 24.—Witnesses will testify tomorrow that Mrs. Lofie Louise Peete, charged with the murder of Jacob C. Denton, wealthy broker, laughed and danced at a party given at the Denton residence when his body lay in the cellar crypt, the prosecuting attorneys announced yesterday.

Mrs. Peete, who has become known as the "spynx woman," because of her unperturbed attitude during the trial which has already run three days, is the wife of R. C. Peete, an invald. The defense will play its trump card in the middle of the week when Mrs. Peete goes on the witness stand to deny she committed the crime or had any knowledge of it.

WILLED FINE ART CONSERVATORY

Denver Musician Reveals Fortune Left by Geo. Washington

HEADQUARTERS IN D.C.

She Claims He Left $40,000 for Purpose of Founding National Conservatory—Fletcher Mystified.

Denver, Jan. 24.—When George Washington died, in 1799, it was found that the "Father of His Country" left $40,000 for the purpose of founding a national conservatory of music. This money has been held in trust for 121 years, drawing compound interest, forgotten by all save a little circle of musicians. The principal has mounted to some thing like $2,500,000 untouched for more than 120 years.

It was left for a Denver woman, Mrs. Flourney Rivers, a teacher in the Wolcott Conservatory of Music, to start the ball rolling toward utilizing this fund for the purpose it was intended.

Last week Mrs. Rivers, in company with Walter Damrosch and Eugene Ysave, interviewed President-elect Harding on the subject and Mrs. Harding has promised to put the project through.

According to Mrs. Rivers, the main institution will be located in Washington, with various subinstitutes throughout the country. The institute will provide for instruction in each of the fine arts—music, painting and drama.

"Of course, I was acquainted with the facts of the fund willed to music by the Father of His Country. To begin with," Mrs. Rivers said, "I wrote Mr. Harding, telling him that it seemed that 120 years was about long enough to wait for George Washington's wishes to be carried out.

"Mr. Harding replied, saying he was amazed to learn of this fund. He invited me to confer with him."

In company with Walter Damrosch, of New York, and the violinist, Ysaye, Mrs. Rivers made the trip to Marion, Ohio, a few days ago and met the President-elect.

"We conferred with him for about an hour," Mrs. Rivers said, "pointing out that, inasmuch as establishment of the conservatory was provided for in this special fund, it could not interfere with the Republican policy of retrenchment.

"He promised his support.

"We have made arrangements with Senator Borah, of Idaho, to introduce the bill at the next session of Congress.

Strong support in Congress for President-elect Harding's project to institute a national conservatory of music is foreshadowed by Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, of Florida, Before the late war Senator Fletcher introduced a bill providing for the establishment of such an institution.

Washington heard yesterday with lively interest that Mr. Harding has written to a woman in Denver, promising to promote a plan for establishing the national conservatory with funds "left in the will of George Washington" and now believed to be lodged in the United States Treasury.

"I am somewhat mystified," said Senator Fletcher last night, "by this reference to funds left by George Washington. I never heard of such a bequest. Certainly no suggestion of it came up when my bill was introduced, or at subsequent hearings. My project, in a nutshell, is to do for the people of the United States, in the realm of music cultivation, what European governments long have done for their people. If we had a great national conservatory, centered at Washington with branches throughout the country as the board of control in its wisdom might deem proper to establish, we would soon make it unnecessary for our young men and women to go abroad for music culture."

It was impossible last night to secure from Treasury officials any details of the "George Washington fund." Speaking of the Juilliard fund, Mrs. Edouard Albian, who is active in the management of the Washington "National Opera" enterprise, said:

"The Juilliard fund is the large fortune left by Mr. Juilliard, a wealthy music lover, for the purpose of promoting music in America. His estate has only recently been settled and its disposition now is in the hands of the committee. Though the will seemed to make it plain the purpose of the Juilliard fund particularly was to aid young singers in America. Personally I, and many others here, feel we don't need so much to train any more musicians as to create an outlet for their talent, principally through national opera."

Senator Borah, of Idaho, on whom Mrs. Flourney Rivers, of Denver, is presumably depending for legislative action to transform the alleged Washington fund now amounting to $2,500,000 into a national conservatory of music, last night denied that he had ever heard of such a fund.

Shooting Case

Jury Hears Trial of Alfred Peters For Shooting John Quill

The case of Alfred De W. Peters, colored, charged with shooting John Quill, colored, is being heard today before a jury in the corporation court, Judge Robinson Moncure presiding.

The shooting took place in a pool room at the corner of Fayette and Cameron streets, conducted by Peters, the night of December 18. Quill was shot in the leg and had his head cut. Peters is represented by Attorney Charles Henry Smith and the prosecution is being conducted by Commonwealths' Attorney, Howard W. Smith.

Luncheon Given

About 75 Guests Attended the Affair: Speeches Made

A luncheon was given this afternoon in the auditorium of the chamber of commerce in honor of Capt. William S. Miller, U. S. N., commandant at the Naval Torpedo Station, this city, and Capt. E. Larimer, U. S. N., who succeeds Capt. Miller here.

Attending are about 75 business men of the city and several out of town guests.

Addresses were made by Admiral C. B McVay, Capt. Miller and Capt. E. B. Larimer and Mr. Mitchell, the last named from the Washington Herald.

Julian Y. Williams, president of the chamber of commerce, presided.

REPENTANT THIEF WRITES TO MAN WHOM HE ROBBED

Sioux City, Iowa, Jan. 24.—F. D. Hass, railroad yardmaster, who was held up and robbed of $12 Wednesday night, declared today he had discovered an honest theif when he found the following note at his office:

"Im the fellow who robbed you. I was broke and out of a job and my wife and kids were going hungry. But I got a job here, and as soon as I get a little money ahead, I will return what I stole from you."

MURDERED, FATHER SAYS

Believes Richmond Hill Youth Was Victim of Hold-Up Men—Burns Found in Mouth

The body of Kermit Engelhart, 18 years old, choir singer in the Richmond Hill Baptist Church, was found early yesterday morning between the tracks of the Long Island Railroad beneath a bridge in Forest Park, and the boy's father and the police disagree regarding the manner in which he met his death. The father, Julius Engelhart, told Assistant District Attorney Frank E. Phillips of Queens that he was sure his son had been blackjacked and murdered. The police expressed belief that the youth committed suicide.

The body was discovered by Edwin Baldwin, engineer of a freight train bound for Jamaica, at 1 o'clock. Baldwin stopped his engine within a few feet of it. He said his train did not touch the body and expressed the opinion that it had not been struck by a train. There were fractures of the skull, spine, right arm and three ribs, the right lung was punctured, and there are bruises and cuts about the head.

POLICE NAB SEVEN FOR SPEEDING

Midsummer Weather Induces Autos to Turn Loose

FORFEIT COLLATERAL

Seven Leave $70 for City—Soldier Came Too Late and Auto Collision Case Dismissed.

Midsummer weather yesterday afternoon brought out hundreds of motorists. The roads were fine and it was ideal for the motorist and the police also thought it would be a great day to check the speeders and others who persisterily disregard traffic regulations The result of the activities of Policemen Durrer and Magner and C. A. Padgett yielded nine Sabbath transgressors of the city speed and traffic laws. All forfeited collateral when their cases were called in the police court this morning and the traffic violators together with two others charged with disorderly conduct brought the grand total receipts of Justice Snow's court for one day up to $80. Not such a bad day's work said the court in closing the book after the collateral had been counted and checked.

A truck of the Alexandria Fertilizer Company and a truck belonging to the government from Camp Humphreys came together with a bang Saturday afternoon at Wolfe and Alfred streets. One post smashed to splinters and both drivers uninjured was the result. The case was called in police court today. The driver of the truck of the fertilizer company was on hand to tell how it happened. The soldier driver of the truck of Uncle Samuel was late. Case dismissed. Ten minutes later the soldier appeared and was notified of the court's action.

The police have in custody several suspects for various offenses whose cases are being investigated, one being a man whom they think knows something about the theft of an automobile.

Deaths And Funerals

Two Persons Pay Debts of Nature and Two Funerals Held

Mrs. Mary Ann Javins died at 5.40 o'clock this morning at the residence of her daughter Mrs. Silas Devers, 1806 Duke street, following a weeks' illness. The deceased was the widow of John Javins. She is survived by three daughters and one son as follows: Mrs. Archie Young, Fairfax; Mrs. Edwin Young, Washington; Mrs. Silas Devers, this city and Frank Javins. Her funeral will take place at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from Sharon Episcopal Chapel, Fairfax county and services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Timothy Milburn died this morning at his residence 409 Queen street at an advanved age. For many years past the deceased had been employed by the city. He had been ill a long time. His wife and several children survive him.

The funeral of John L. Cornwell, who died Saturday morning, took place this afternoon from his late residence 1215 Prince street. Services were conducted by Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Burial was in Bethel cemetery. Members of Alexandria Council, No. 5, Order Fraternal Americans, attended.

Funeral services for William Abel, a former resident, who died Thursday in Elkton, Md., were held this afternoon at Wheatley's mortuary chapel and conducted by Rev. L. K. Kelly, of St. Mary's Catholic Church. Burial was in Bethel cemetery.

A FITTING TRIBUTE. The GAZETTE has been a contemporary and a chronicler of every president of the United States, from Washington to Wilson. It is fitting, therefore, that as Virginia's eldest newspaper, it should pay tribute, as it does today, to the latest of the illustrious sons of the commonwealth to preside over the destinies of the Nation. When the mists of battle shall have cleared away, and the gaping wounds of world-strife healed by Time—that sovereign dispenser for all the ills of humanity—it will be found that the name of Woodrow Wilson has taken its place right worthily amidst that immortal contellation of Virginians: Washington, Jefferson, Madison, and Monroe.

What a heritage is the birthright of every Virginia boy! the Lees, from the Revolution to the War of the States, Stonewall Jackson, Henry, Randolph, Maury, Stuart, Daniel—but why continue! The list is a long one, and not to mention all might seem invidious distinction. Of the forty-eight stars in Old Glory, surely the brightest in the galaxy may be justly claimed to represent that named after the Virgin Queen of England at the apogee of her splendor.

SCHOOL PLAYGROUNDS. Some months ago the City Council generously appropriated the sum of one thousand dollars towards the construction of School Playgrounds. The School Committee after due deliberation as to whether or not to use this sum for a finished construction of smaller playgrounds with less elaborate appointments, decided that the wiser course was to expend the appropriation as a nucleus for a thoroughly up-to-date stadium. Professor Haydon, the principal of the High School, and the City Engineer got together and devised plans which, when completed, will be a source of pride to the city. They comply in every respect with the regulations prescribed by interstate athletic authorities. They include a running track of 440 yards, for foot-races; a base-ball diamond of standard dimensions; a foot-ball gridiron likewise laid out. Later on, tennis courts will be provided, a fence, and a suitable grand-stand. That this admirable provision for the out-of-doors activities of the schools is a wise step needs no argument. Among other advantages it will bring competing teams and their friends to Alexandria on frequent occasions. It will advertise the city effectively, and be a constructive booster. The committee, however, need an additional sum of about seven hundred dollars, and it is to be hoped that our public spirited citizens will gladly avail themselves of an opportunity to contribute to a most laudable enterprise that will be no small factor in building greater Alexandria. At the proper time the GAZETTE will make announcement as to how and to whom to make contribution. It will also, from time to time, give in its news columns advices of progress.

Woodrow Wilson:

An Appreciation and a Prophecy

Woodrow Wilson is the first great world-figure in the democratization of humanity. His was the first world-utterance to be heard in the cause of universal suffrage. He seized the expiring torch of civilization from amidst the ruins of a Europe groping in darkness, and held it aloft that the despairing peoples might kindle their altars anew with the sacred flame of freedom.

He bore the loftiest message to mankind since the Divine Voice out of Nazareth. His words were as truly inspired as the exhortations of the old Hebrew prophets, and the listening nations hung on his sentences with hearts set a-throb with a new world-hope.

When the Machiavelian emissaries of the Allies, subservient to all the mean and narrow traditions of medieval diplomacy, interjected their sinister designs into the councils that were to determine the fate of a world, Woodrow Wilson threatened to appeal to their masters, the multi-millioned masses behind them. They knew, and he knew, that the threat was not idle, and that his appeal would be hearkened to and heeded in that court of last resort. Accordingly they professed to yield, and camouflaged for the time the ulterior motives that dominated their thought and action.

It was only after weeks and months of the most strenuous, nerve-wracking toil ever piled onto the shoulders of one mortal man, that the League of Nations took shape as the first attempt in history to make a world safe for democracy. A document that marks a new era in the affairs of mankind. As vastly more important than the Magna Charta or the Declaration of Independence, as the stupendous total of humanity surpasses in importance any one people.

At the time of the armistice all Europe was one welter of blood-lust, greed, and revenge. English, French, Italians, Belgians—saw red, and only red! The brutish passions engendered and nursed through four years of terrible warfare were at last let loose. Germany, with its teeming millions of kindred Teutonic blood, was to be utterly crushed, ruined, starved, annihilated. In the meantime, England was to get this, France that, Belgium something else, and Italy to have what was left. Into this embroilment of seething hatred and embittered passions, came Woodrow Wilson, the sole standard-bearer of Christian civilization. With a simplicity of demeanor begotten only of true democracy, with a dignity of bearing born only of self-conscious worth, the American president took his seat at the council table, easily chief among his compeers. Nay, more, the first man among all men; the cynosure of all the eyes of earth.

Singly and unaided he fought his battles in that daily tournament of Titans. Even among those closest to him, his own countrymen, from his own land, he found but half-hearted support. The loneliest man in all the world! Still he wavered not or flinched. Upborne by one of the most indomitable wills ever vouchsafed to man, he struggled on, a marvel of endurance, a miracle of patience and courage. Victory came at last, as victory must ever come to men of like mold. The League of Nations was born! Whatever of compromise there is in it; whatever of the imperfection that lurks in all human undertakings—the germ is there, to grow throughout the ages, till "universal peace lies like a shaft of light across all lands."

That Woodrow Wilson freely offered up his life in the self-same cause for which our brave soldier-boys died on Flanders-fields, even his enemies will not deny. That he may have been spared by an all-wise Providence for greater tasks to come, does not affect the nobility of the sacrifice. Nor was the fate of the troops on the battle-field a less happy one. Their sufferings are over, their enshrinement in the hearts of their countrymen assured forever. But the president has endured for years the envenomed shafts of political hatred and private malice. History, however, will set him aright in the eyes of posterity. His place is secure in the pantheon of the world's great men.

Now that the burdens are to be lifted from his shoulders, the ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE wishes the president long years of improving health and consequent usefulness to mankind. It ventures to predict for him a full meed of those honors, that love, that reverence, from a grateful people, which he has so well earned, to which he is so well entitled, in ungrudging and increasing abundance.

COLUMBIAN REVUE

Folks, far and near, please gather here.
And listen to my words of cheer;
The message that I've prepared for you

Tells all about the Columbian Revue
The Columbian Revue is something new,
It's a brand new show made just for you;
Music and girls are these galore—
The kind that'll make you say "encore."
You'll see the Dutchman, Frenchman, Jew,
And Eddie and Jazz and "Bobby," too;
You'll hear the strains of "Sahara Rose,"
And see just how "Sweet Mama" goes.
Folks, for hours I can relate to you
A whole lot more of the "Columbian Revue;"
But I'll let you wait until those nights
When we'll all act it—and act it right.

COUGHS AND COLDS worry thoughtful persons more than they do the reckless. Observing men and women know how quickly a cold can run into something more serious. So it is that in thousands of homes in the United States you will find in the family cupboard. In this time-tried and old reliable medicine are scientifically blended the pungent, clean and wholesome tar of the pine and balsey, tasteless, demulcent honey and other curative and healing plants used by our grandmothers, for coughs and colds.

Never Without It In His Home

Samuel McCoy, 1 Fowler St., Trenton, N. J., writes: 'I can truthfully say that Foley's Honey and Tar is the best cough remedy I have ever had in my family. We are never without it in our house. You can use my name and my recommendation.'

Gave It to Her Children and Grandchildren

Mrs. V. M. Katz, 502 Armandale St., N. S. Pittsburgh, Pa., writes: 'I gave Foley's Honey and Tar to my little grandson when he had a bad cold and it did him lots of good. I used to use a lot of it when my own children were small. Children like to take it.'

Foley's Honey and Tar seems to get right at the root of the trouble, loosens phlegm and mucus, clears the passages, inflamed and irritated membranes, soothing and soothing medicine, eases the throat, stops tickling, and checks the racking cough.

Pepto-Mangan Brings Vigor, Health and Happiness to Anemic Persons

When you're feeling your best—when you're brimming with happiness "pep" and enthusiasm—people just can't help being drawn to you. You're a favorite wherever you go.

But when you're constantly tired and dull—when everything is too much trouble—when you're bored with yourself—it's natural that you affect your acquaintances likewise.

If you're not feeling up to par, you're not. If you're not sick exactly but are just run down, what you need is a good tonic. The food you eat is not becoming energy-making, red blood.

Everyone gets run-down occasionally. But it's not necessary and is really dangerous to let this condition hang on. A bottle of Pepto-Mangan, the famous "red blood builder" would supply the iron and other properties your blood now lacks—would bring back your oldtime energy and enthusiasm—would put color in your cheeks and spring in your step.

Pepto-Mangan is agreeable and convenient to take, and endorsed by physicians everywhere. Can be had in either liquid or tablet form. There's no diference in their effectiveness.

Ask your druggist for Pepto-Mangan and be sure it's "Gude's"—the genuine. The name "Gude's" should be on the package—Adv.

COULDN'T RAISE HANDS TO MOUTH

Mrs. Hommes is Relieved of Rheumatism and Gains 15 Pounds by Taking Tanlac

"Tanlac has actually built me up fifteen pounds in weight in three weeks time and has restored my health completely," said Mrs. Laura Hommes, of 628 Rorer Avenue, Roanoke, Va., formerly of Portsmouth, Ohio.

"I suffered from indigestion and stomach trouble for more than four years. Gas pressed against my heart, causing severe pain and many times I felt as if I was being smothered to death. My head ached for days at a time and often became so dizzy I could hardly stand.

"I was almost continually nauseated and became so weak I couldn't walk but a little way before I just had to sit down and rest. I had rheumatism in my shoulders and ankles and in all my joints, and for three weeks was just hobbling about the house unable to do any kind of work, and I couldn't even raise my hands to my mouth.

"It only took five bottles of Tanlac to put me in the best of health. Why, it gave me a splendid appetite and I actually gained fifteen pounds in three weeks. I'm entirely free from bloating, palpitation and shortness of breath and the headaches and dizziness are all gone. I never feel a sign of rheumatism and can now do all my housework with perfect ease."

Tanlac is sold in Alexandria by Edgar Warfield, jr., and good druggists everywhere.

What Is Lightning?

Why should I change from gasoline? Is Lightning just another substitute or a safe permanently available motor fuel? Naturally such questions confront motorists who have, by this time, heard of the advantages of Lightning.

Lightning is not an enricher. It is a high grade, high power motor fuel in itself—a pure hydro-carbon developed into its present stage of perfection by the producers.

Lightning is offered with the assurance that it is as harmless as gasoline and superior in every respect, not only giving more mileage and power but a pleasant freedom from carbon trouble and a decided economy in upkeep!

A VIRGINIA HEROINE IN NEAR EAST RELIEF WORK

Mrs. Edith Hoffman, who was born and raised near Cape Charles, Virginia, figures as the heroine in an account of relief work in the Near East that has just been forwarded to the state committee for Near East Relief. The story of Mrs. Hoffman's achievement was made public today by Oliver J. Sands, state chairman, and is as follows:

"It was at Erivan, the capital of the new Armenian republic, where Near East Relief Workers have picked up in the highways and byways several thousand children. As an aggregation of Humanity they presented an awful sight, dirty, ragged and diseased.

"After sorting out this mass of humanity, 1,400 little children were classified as incurable and hopeless. Mrs. Hoffman, who is a nurse, was assigned the task of doing what she could to make their few remaining days comfortable as possible. Mrs. Hoffman is an outimist and has the resourcefulness of an American girl. She went five miles into the mountains, established a summer camp, dammed up a mountain stream and made three bathing pools. The children were taken to this camp, bathed daily and made to walk every day. Mrs. Hoffman had but four or five native helpers and besides being in contact with contagious diseases daily she often risked her life in returning to town late at night to get supplies. Armenian cavalrymen, realizing her danger, would often follow at a distance to see that no harm came from wild animals, Turks or Kurds who infested the lonely mountain paths.

"At the end of the summer, Mrs. Hoffman had been so successful with her treatments that she returned to town with 1,394 happy, healthy, romping children, entirely cured. She lost only six and the rest were in perfect health."

For the continued care of those and other children who are homeless, the state committee for Near East Relief is now asking for funds. It is hoped to raise enough money in Virginia to save the lives of 5,000 such Armenian waifs.

RANGE PRICES TAKE BIG DROP

The general reduction of twenty to twenty-five per cent in retail prices announced by the manufacturer of Great Majestic ranges marks the first break in the price of such commodities.

Such an announcement clearly indicates that lower iron and labor costs are anticipated though no decided changes have yet been announced in those lines.

It has been made known that the policy of this manufacturer is to make a large scale reduction at once in order to get back to a normal basis immediately instead of making several smaller reductions throughout the year.

Such noteworthy steps toward the establishment of back to normal prices are perhaps a most effective measure in contributing to the stabilization of present business condition.

The year had F.amily begun
For Willie Weeks, a poor man's Sun.
He was beset with bill and dun,
And he had very little Mon.
"This cash," he said, "it won't pay dues,
I've nothing here but ones and Tues"
A bright thought struck him, and he said,
"The Rich Miss Goldrocks I will Wed."
But when he paid his court to her,
She lisped but firmly said, "No, Thur."
"Alas," said he, "then I must die!"
His soul went where they say souls Fri.
They found his gloves and coat and hat,"
And the coroner then upon him sat.

He Got the Spirit

There's a suburban home whose owner's principal delight is in keeping it spic and span. After dinner he and a guest were smoking on the front porch. The guest, after lighting his cigar, threw the burned match to the ground.

"Oh, I wouldn't do that, George," said the host.

"Why not?" asked the guest, surprised.

"It spoils the appearance of a place," was the answer. "It's just those little things that make a place look bad."

The guest smoked his cigar in silence for a minute. Then, without a word, he got up from his chair, walked down to ther oad and disappeared. He returned in a short while and his host asked.

"Why, where have you been, George?"

"Oh, I just went down to spit in the river," said George.—Everybody's.

Dangerous Height

ONE MAN—ONE WIFE! CIVILIZATION STATES THE FACT, BUT MANY WOMEN WONDER—ONLY ONE?

Lionel Barrymore mirrors a man's mind in the big dramatic presentation at the

TODAY AND TOMORROW

Lionel Barrymore and Doris Rankin in "The Devil's Garden"

Pregnant With Possibilities!

Civilized man has long accepted the principle of monogamy, one wife for one husband. But the age-old predatory instinct lingers. The mind of man is still the Devil's Garden, in which ancient traits persist, struggle against them though he may.

See that theme dramatized by

LIONEL BARRYMORE

—as William Dale, who heard his own wife's confession.
—who slew the man whose name she mentioned.
—and then felt the walls that checked his own predatory instincts crumble when that same temptation came to him.

Whitman Bennett presents his personally supervised production

"The Devil's Garden"

The finest screen achievement of America's greatest actor

INDIVIDUALITY

If you want to be distinctive, to show an individuality all your own, you can accomplish your purpose most readily in our jewelry selections.

If your selections are too gorgeous, too pronounced, an undesirable individuality is plainly evident. If quietly genteel, if possessed of a distinctive elegance in taste, the advantage is yours.

HARDING CRUISING DOWN INDIAN RIVER

Ormond Beach, Fla., Jan. 24.—The houseboat Victoria, on which President-elect Harding is cruising down the Indan River, made the first stop of her voyage at Ormond Beach yesterday afternoon and disembarked her passengers for a two-hour ride along the Florida East Shore Boulevard. The stop here and a brief tie up when the Victoria tried to go through the Ormond draw bridge were the only incidents on the log of the houseboat during a peaceful Sunday's sailing.

Taking advantage of perfect weather, she pushed ahead of her schedule, and when she tied up for the night she was within a few hours of Rockledge, where the party expects to go ashore some time today for a golf match.

During the auto ride, Mr. Harding and his companions drove into Daytona, eight miles away, and brought back Senator Cummins, of Iowa, who has been at a Daytona hotel and who will make the remainder of the houseboat trip as a member of the vacation party.

Under a hot sun, the President-elect came ashore wearing white woolens and a straw hat. His visit attracted little attention, although the Victoria docked within a stone's throw of a big tourist hotel. Details of his vacation trip had been kept confidential and only a few of the guests here learned of his arrival until after the Victoria had headed down stream again.

The trouble at the drawbridge occurred soon afterward and held up the Victoria for more than an hour. She attempted the passage at too shallow a point and stuck in the mud in such a position that the bridge could not be closed until her little engine had forced a way out, inch by inch. Meantime more than a score of automobiles were held up and a crowd of several hundred gathered on the bridge and cheered the houseboat when she finally extracted herself. At no time was the Victoria in a dangerous position, and although her rudder was slightly damaged her skipper said the injury was not serious.

Civilized man has long accepted the principal of monogamy—one wife for one husband. But the age old predatory instinct lingers. The mind of man is still the Devil's Garden in which ancient traits persist struggle against him though he may.

Commencing today at the Richmond Lionel Barrymore's dramatic master pieces, "The Devil's Garden," will be shown. America's foremost actor has the role of a strong man struggling against stronger forces. His wife is his guardian angel, until his faith in her is shattered, and he faces the big fight against the temptation of that same sin by which she fell.

At the Ingomar Dorothy Dalton in "The Dark Road," will be shown in conjunction with Chapter 4 of "The Son of Tarzan."

ADAM AND EVE STORY PARABLE, SAYS CHAPLAIN

New York, Jan. 24.—Asserting that "the story of the fall of Adam and Eve is of course neither science nor history," Rev. Raymond C. Knox, chaplain of Columbia University, in a sermon yesterday in St. Paul's Chapel, Columbia, declared. "It is related in the Bible to illustrate and teach that productive work is necessary for happiness."

The unrest and labor troubles of the day are due to a disregard for this illustration to an attempt to "gain success without labor," he said. Blue Laws, if enacted, he added, would turn Sunday into Ruskin's day, which casts its shadow three days in advance.

Fire in Christian Home; Harding's Records Saved

Marion, Ohio., Jan. 24.—Smoldering fire resulting from an overheated furnace, was discovered this morning in the home of George B. Christian Jr., secretary to President-elect Harding. The building is next door to the residence of Mr. Harding, but the fire did not pass to adjoining structures.

All the campaign documents were stored in the Christian home, and although some of the documents were slightly damaged by water after the fire department got into action, none was destroyed. The room which had been occupied by Mr. Harding, and which contained his more personal papers, was not damaged.

The damage estimated at $3,000, is covered by insurance.

Ladlord Will be Fined $1,000 If Tenant Makes Home Brew

Chicago, Jan. 24.—The landlord of any tenant convicted of making home brew will be fined $1,000, District Attorney Clyne announced today.

The fine, Mr. Clyne explained, should really be placed against the amateur brewer, but since many of them are unable to pay and have not sufficient property to attach, the fine will be levied against the landlord.

"The Saloon act holds an owner guilty of law violations on his premises," Mr. Clyne said. "If the tenant can't pay, the landlord must."

Washington, Jan. 24.—Uncle Sam has found contraband liquor in his own bottles. Prohibition agents and city detectives reported yesterday that they had seized an automobile tonneau full of "bottled goods" from a building in a block of houses owned by the Treasury Department.

The occupant of the house, Mary Costellina, was arrested, but what's puzzling the prohibition officials is how they are going to enforce that section of the statute which makes the owner of real property responsible for liquor sold on the premises.

POPULAR PRISONER ASKED TO REMAIN

Woodbury, N. J., Jan. 24.—The term of William Smith as a prisoner in the county jail expired yesterday. His home is in California, and he does not care to go there, but wants to remain East.

For some weeks Smith has been a trusty around the jail and courthouse, and exceptionally useful. A member of the board of freeholders asked that he be allowed a compensation of $2 per week and remain at the jail, but Steward Nichols, of the almshouse, states that he has use for just such a man there, and the matter is up to the solicitor.

The man is finishing a sentence for petty larceny.

LYE AND HEROIN REPORTED USED IN BOOTLEG LIQUOR

Cumberland, Md., Jan. 24.—People are becoming aroused over reports that the sale of illicit liquor, said to have been distilled in the Shanty-town secton, is responsible for two deaths within the past 10 days. One of the victims was a business man and the other a colored woman.

It is said that concentrated lye is used in making the stuff, mainly to give the burning taste. Heroin also enters into the making, it is said. The drink, it is said, s colored to resemble monded whisky. The stuff is sold in bottles that had contained bonded whisky, it is said.

Do You Want To Force Prices Up Again?

YOU KNOW Scores of factories are closing because of lack of orders. Almost before you realize it, merchandise will be scarce and hard to get. Reduced output and limited supply, then, will put prices UP again. When factories re-open it will take months to catch up with renewed demand.

If You Put Off Buying The Things You Need You Help Put Up Prices and Increase The Cost Of Living

The time to buy has come. Goods are being sold at a loss in many cases. Prices have reached rock-bottom.

Buy the things you need. Help keep the factories going and the workers busy. If you put off buying the dry goods, clothes, shoes, hats, furniture and other things you'll want and need you'll CAUSE PRICES TO CLIMB AGAIN and cause widespread unemployment.

The Alexandria stores listed below offer worthy merchandise at lowest prices under present conditions. You'll find real bargains offered daily in our newspaper and other advertisements.
